

Output Productivity Tools (AFP Studio)

Customer Notice

Many HP Exstream customers have software keys for our Output Productivity Tools that will expire within the next 60 days. If you have received a temporary software key for any of your Output Productivity Tools, please follow the steps below to obtain a permanent license key.

There are two options available to continue using the Output Productivity Tools that you license:

- Download version 6.0.003 (November 2010) and obtain a new license key to use this enhanced and upgraded version of the software from software.keys@hp.com.
- Or
- Request that HP Exstream provide a new temporary key for your current version until June 30th, 2011. After that date, new keys will only be made for versions at or above the 6.0.003 level.

In version 6.0.003, HP Exstream responded to customer requests to introduce MS Terminal Services and Citrix XenApp 6 platform support. Additionally, HP Exstream improved the FlexNet license deployment mechanisms, enabling non-internet connected users to flex their Output Compare and AFP Viewer licenses. The new functionality available in the 6.0 versions makes it easier and faster to proof and modify more types of documents.

The HP Exstream Output Productivity Tools include:

- Modify AFP (formerly known as AFP Jazz)
- Output Batch Compare (formerly named PDF, PS or AFP Batch Compare)
- Output Compare (formerly named PDF, PS or AFP Visual Compare)
- AFP Viewer
