HP Photosmart Premium with TouchSmart Web

Overview

HP Photosmart Premium with TouchSmart Web is the world's first web-connected home printer. Powered by touch and empowered by the web, this sleek device provides quick, simple touchscreen access to important, useful and personal online content.[1] With the largest LCD touchscreen of any all-in-one inkjet printer (4.33 inches), the HP TouchSmart web control panel conveniently connects users to the web[1] via preloaded HP applications (apps). Part of an entirely new web-based printing platform, these apps enable easy printing of maps, coupons, movie tickets, recipes and more from partners including Disney, CBS Interactive, Google, DreamWorks Animation, Fandango and Coupons.com.

Users can also connect to Snapfish and the HP Creative Studio directly from the HP Photosmart Premium with TouchSmart Web, which saves time and enables customers to archive or print photos and projects like never before … just touch, print and go.[2]

A versatile printing solution with print, fax, copy and scan functionality, the HP Photosmart Premium with TouchSmart Web is perfect for multitasking households – meeting all their high-quality home printing needs in one premium product, from laser-quality text to lab-quality photos. With a full range of wired and wireless connectivity options, this printer provides the freedom and flexibility to print directly from Wi-Fi enabled PCs, Bluetooth®-enabled devices, the iPhone and the iPod touch using HP iPrint Photo.[3]

This ENERGY STAR® qualified all-in-one helps users save paper with automatic two-sided printing and reduces packaging waste by shipping in a reusable bag.
