

Douglas Hyde

Product Series Manager, Networking
Hewlett-Packard Company

---

Douglas Hyde is product series manager for the V-Series small business product portfolio for Networking at HP. He is responsible for global strategy, roadmap and product line management for small business networking solutions, including smart managed and unmanaged switches, routers and wireless technologies.

During Hyde's 12-year tenure, he has held various roles in product management and marketing. Prior to joining 3Com, he worked at Chipcom and Motorola. Hyde has been active in the networking industry since the early 1990s.

Hyde holds a bachelor's degree from Stanford University and a Master of Business Administration from the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania.