

LISA WOLFE
Worldwide Small and Midsize Business Leader
HP Enterprise Business

HEWLETT-PACKARD COMPANY

Lisa Wolfe is responsible for growing the worldwide Small and Midsize Business at HP through indirect channels. She leads the company's strategies, marketing and business initiatives to drive awareness and demand for its server, storage, services and networking business.

Wolfe began her career in R&D, systems engineering and consulting. She has held marketing, strategy and sales leadership positions in her 20 year career with HP, primarily focused on driving HP's servers, storage and services portfolio.

She holds a bachelor's degree in computer science from the University of California at San Diego.